Labor Party To Continue Despite Shaky Majority

Risk Of Ousting Great On 10-Vote Margin Won Friday

LONDON, Feb. 25—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee announced today his Labor government will carry on, despite the scant and shaky parliamentary majority it won in Thursday's elections. At the moment, Labor holds a 10-vote working margin in the House of Commons, with six seats still in doubt.

Attlee announced the decision after an emergency 75-minute cabinet session. It means the Labor party will form another government and run the continuous risk of being wrecked on a vote of confidence in the House of Commons at a time not of its own choosing.

Attlee emerged from the cabinet meeting at No. 10 Downing st., the prime minister's official residence, to say:

"Well, we are carrying on."

That was all he would say, but later the cabinet issued a formal statement which said:

"The cabinet met this morning to consider the situation arising from the general election.

"After consultation with his colleagues, the Prime Minister has decided that as the House of Commons will contain a majority of Labor members, it is the duty of the present administration to continue in office, for the King's government must be carried on."

"The Prime Minister hopes that now that the election is over, all will once more give their full efforts to carrying forward the necessary work of the nation."

The winning party, nevertheless, plans a big victory celebration tonight to coincide with observance of its fiftieth birthday. A strong comeback bid by the smooth party machine of Conservative Leader Winston Churchill, although defeated, came so close to the winning mark that Labor's mandate for giving Britain more socialism and more nationalization of industry is seriously threatened.

All but six of the 625 seats in the next house had been decided last night when the vote-counting stopped for the weekend. An untouchable record of 84 per cent of Britain's qualified electors had cast a total of 28,582,901 votes.

The results so far give Labor 314 seats, Conservatives 294 seats, Liberals eight, Irish Nationalists two and one seat to the neutral speaker of the house.

Results from five districts in Scotland will not be reported until Monday. Three of these are normally Conservative. The sixth district still unreported—in Manchester—will not vote until next month, because of the death of one of the candidates.

If the Conservatives win all six of the remaining districts the Labor majority will be further cut to four. Even if Labor wins them it will have only a majority of 16.

One way of avoiding the threat of new elections to more clearly define the lines would be formation of a coalition government. But leaders of both major parties have come out flatly against working together in a peace-time government.

The Liberal party, whose all-out effort as a resurging holder of the balance of power failed, cannot turn the tide for either party with the meager showing it has made. Traditionally anti-Socialist, it appeared unlikely the Liberals would support Labor unless nationalization is dropped.

In view of these factors, forecasts were general that the Labor party would soon resign, either by choice or of necessity.

Should the government be defeated on any of the major issues it has promised to put through—such as further nationalization or even approval of the national budget which is due April 1—it would have to resign. New elections then would have to be called.

Republicans Pleased

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—(AP)—Republicans saw their party's stock rising today on the strength of Conservative party gains in the British elections. Administration Democrats called the rise imaginary.

Republicans generally felt that the narrow margin of the British Labor party's victory reflects a swing to the right in the Western world that may help elect GOP candidates for the Senate and House in November.

But Administration leaders in Congress said the British results don't mean anything so far as American politics is concerned.

Southern Democrats generally applauded the strong run made by the Conservatives.

PLANE COMES CALLING. This twin-engine Air Force plane, out of gas and attempting an emergency landing, sheared off its wings on small trees and came to rest on the front porch of a farm home near Charlotte, N. C. The cut and bruised pilot, Lt. B. A. Seagraves, who had taken off from Atlanta, walked out of the wreckage. He was the only occupant of the plane. Two women in the rear of the house were not hurt.

Coal Progress Nil, Ching Says

Optimism Low For Break; Lewis Leaves

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—(AP)—Government officials urgently prodded coal peace talks today in hope of a break in the strike before the union faces trial on contempt charges Monday. But they weren't optimistic.

With the nation's fuel crisis growing steadily worse there seemed little basis for figuring any settlement was near.

Federal Mediation Chief Cyrus S. Ching, one of the men President Truman has assigned to try to end the eight-month-long dispute, said there hasn't been any progress since the present court-directed bargaining got underway on Feb. 15.

"The situation is exactly the same as it was when these conferences started," Ching said.

Nevertheless, as the union-operator talks resumed Ching and David L. Cole said they were redoubling their efforts over the weekend for an 11th hour compromise. Cole is chairman of Mr. Truman's coal inquiry board.

The two officials held secret meetings yesterday with John L. Lewis and his aides, but apparently nothing came of the talks with the United Mine Workers leader.

Lewis left later for Springfield, Ill., to attend the funeral of a brother. His absence from the weekend coal negotiations was a further dampener on prospects for a coal contract.

Some operators said there wasn't a chance of the negotiations getting anywhere with Lewis away. In his absence UMW Vice President Thomas Kennedy was the top union negotiator.

The union will go on trial before Federal Judge Richmond B. Keach for civil and criminal contempt Monday. This is based on the continued walkout of 372,000 union members in face of Keach's order on Feb. 11 that they return to work.

Governor On Video, But Won't Fiddle

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche plans to go through with his scheduled appearance on a benefit television show here tomorrow. But so far as his fiddling is concerned—that's out.

The simple truth, the governor said yesterday is that his brother, Dr. William J. Lausche, "will not have the quality of the program destroyed by my discordant fiddling."

Dr. Lausche, a Cleveland dentist, will perform as a pianist on the show to be presented at the Press club by the Cleveland Heart Society. The governor was to have played his fiddle.

He made his explanation in a telegram to James H. Rand, III, co-chairman of the society. Lausche did not say what he would substitute for his violin playing.

Mullins, Pedersen, Dreyer Comprise Water Commission

Norman A. Pedersen, F. P. Mullins and T. R. Dreyer will form Salem's water commission as soon as it is formally established by city ordinance, Mayor Harry Vincent announced today.

The trio of Salem men, prominent in their respective businesses, will supervise the operation of the city's expanding water system, soon to be increased by a $1,350,000 supply program.

Vincent said he, City Solicitor Walter J. Hunston, city council's water committee and the three appointees will meet Tuesday to formulate the final ordinance setting up the new water administration.

Vincent has outlined the proposed administrative changes in election literature and upon assuming office Jan. 1. He proposes to put the water department under a licensed water superintendent, whom the commission will name eventually from civil service nominations.

Mr. Vincent said he has not yet decided upon the terms of office for the three men chosen, but one will serve two years, one four and the third six. As their terms expire, successors will be named for standard six-year terms, he said.

Vincent also plans to combine the service and safety directorships, due to the fact that the majority responsibilities for the water department (now under the service director) will be shifted to the water superintendent and the commission. The commissioners will serve without pay.

Mr. Mullins, a former president of the board of education, is a partner in the A. E. Masten & Co. bonding firm in Pittsburgh. He resides at 854 S. Lincoln ave.

Mr. Pedersen is president of the C. B. Hunt & Son Corp. and lives on Egypt rd.

Mr. Dreyer, who came to Salem from Brooklyn, N. Y., two years ago, is assistant manager of the E. W. Bliss Co. plant here.

300 In City Attend Prayer Day Program
More than 300 adults and children of all faiths participated in the World Day of Prayer program presented yesterday by members of the Salem Council of Church Women in churches throughout the city and in the Home for Aged Women.

Mrs. J. C. Pottorf, president of the council, and Mrs. Frank Brudner presided at the services in the Emmanuel Lutheran Church. Mrs. Howard Gillett led the luncheon program in the Methodist Church.

A children's service in the Church of the Nazarene was in charge of Mrs. Alma Ferguson, evangelist from Michigan. Mrs. G. D. Keister, conducted the prayer sessions, while Mrs. Emma Tibbs led the responsive readings.

Highlights of the musical program included a solo by Mrs. Herbert Yengling and selections by the Lutheran Girls Choir, directed by Mrs. W. J. Seeman, who with Mrs. Robert Hammell played accompaniment for the day's services. Miss Catherine Minth accompanied the choir.

In the afternoon session at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Mrs. Harry Snyder reviewed Dr. F. C. Laubach's book on "Prayer." Mrs. Howard Zealley explained that the voluntary offerings from the services all over the world are used for interdenominational work both here and abroad.

The sacrificial luncheon, prepared by women of the Methodist and Holy Trinity Lutheran churches, was attended by 65 women. Mrs. J. A. Fehr had charge of the reservations.

Relations Tense With E. Europe Over "Freeze"

Husband's Part In Mercy Death To Be Aired

Defense Blocks Sheriff's Reference; Borroto To Testify

MANCHESTER, N. H., Feb. 25—(AP)—Counsel for Dr. Hermann N. Sander threw a block yesterday against state efforts to prove that the husband of the woman he is charged with slaying had nothing to do with her "mercy" death.

The block was thrown up shortly before the murder trial of the 41-year-old country doctor recessed for the weekend. Dr. Sander is charged with killing Mrs. Abbie Borroto, 59, a cancer doomed patient, with lethal air injections.

Chief of Defense Counsel Louis E. Wyman bounced to his feet the instant Sheriff Thomas E. O'Brien testified the prosecution had a signed statement from Borroto.

The statement said that Borroto claimed he had "nothing to do with Dr. Sander in this."

Testimony had been presented earlier quoting Dr. Sander as saying he yielded to Borroto's pleadings to end his wife's suffering even if it meant "eliminating her life."

Judge Harold E. Westcott sustained Wyman's objections and ordered the sheriff's testimony stricken from the record.

Wyman told newsmen later that Borroto would be called as a defense witness if the state doesn't place him on the stand.

On learning of Wyman's statement, Attorney General William L. Phinney said: "I might save him the trouble."

Adjournment left incomplete a nurse's account of the waning life of Mrs. Borroto.

Miss Elizabeth Rose read bedside notes covering the first several days of her attendance on Mrs. Borroto, starting Nov. 22. Mrs. Borroto died Dec. 4.

The notes contained frequent references to injections of drugs to ease pain and flagging pulse and respiration.

Phinney said that the nurse's testimony is designed to show that although Mrs. Borroto suffered some pain "no extraordinary amount of pain was shown on the charts."

The week-end respite gave all concerned an opportunity to relax strained nerves.

A week of taut contest over selection of a jury and introduction of a sizeable portion of the prosecution's evidence had left the defendant, his attractive wife and opposing counsel serious, if not grim.

Review Of Strike Rights Suggested

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25—(AP)—A federal judge here says the "so-called inherent right to strike" is possibly "outmoded" and should be reappraised.

Judge Paul Jones told a group of newly naturalized citizens yesterday that strikes similar to the present coal dispute "affect more than our industrial life."

"The affect our very existence," he asserted.

He declared that in earlier years the right to strike was the "only means that the laboring or wage-earning people had to secure a remedy for their inequities and grievances."

Federal and state legislation now has been passed for the protection of labor, he added, but it apparently is not satisfied and continues to "exert power advantages to the injury of the entire economy."

Then he concluded: "Thus, it ought to be carefully considered whether the so-called inherent right to strike is not now outmoded, and whether it should not be brought into relationship with, and made subject to, the laws securing other rights."

EX-FBI UNDERCOVER man Matthew Cvetis (left), Pittsburgh, turns over to Rep. Frances E. Walter (D), Pennsylvania, a vast file of membership records of Communist party and other documents of Communist front organizations, in Washington. He got the papers, which filled two suitcases, from Communist headquarters in Pittsburgh. Cvetis, who joined the party in 1943, says the Communists sent 50 Labor Youth workers into western Pennsylvania to pass out the Daily Worker and food aid to striking miners. He also said the Reds have made little headway in the UMW.

Ohioans Eye Slim Coal Pile

Cold Forecast Causes Concern

COLUMBUS, Feb. 25—(AP)—Ohioans anxiously eyed their dwindling coal bins today as the weather man promised below-freezing temperatures for the weekend.

Drastic emergency measures to meet the growing scarcity caused by the coal strike continued throughout the state.

One of the hardest-hit cities was Defiance, where dealers said yard stocks were exhausted. Churches were urged to curtail Lenten services and organizations were asked to cancel unnecessary evening meetings.

Mayor T. L. Parker declared coal emergency in Barberton. He set up a committee to ration fuel, allotting no more than a two day supply to anyone. The mayor urged President Truman, Gov. Lausche and John L. Lewis, urging resumption of coal operations.

Columbus dealers said there was no reason for panic among domestic users. Akron and Cincinnati dealers said they shared their coal supplies with domestic users and institutions.

Meanwhile, the striking miners were reported in desperate financial condition in Jefferson and Belmont counties. Larry Finlay, secretary of the East Liverpool Trades and Labor Council, said 1,000 miners' families were destitute in the two counties.

He said AFL and CIO unions are collecting food donations to deliver Sunday to the Eastern Ohio miners relief committee at Yorkville. At Steubenville, a UMW local obtained permission to solicit funds for needy children of the miners.

At Portsmouth, the Detroit Steel Corp., received 36 cars of coal—the first since the strike began. The firm had an agreement with the UMW covering Detroit Steel's mines in Eastern Kentucky.

Says U. S. Must Win 'Cold War'

Town Hall Speaker Discounts War Threat

W. between the United States and Russia is not likely in the foreseeable future, in the opinion of Robert Magidoff, former American correspondent in Moscow, who spoke at the Salem Town Hall meeting Friday night in the High School auditorium.

Mr. Magidoff, who was expelled from Russia in 1948 because the Russians suspected him of espionage, firmly believes the United States should do everything possible to win the "cold war," which he declares is this nation's No. 1 problem.

He pointed out that America needs to help the free-thinking peoples of the democratic countries to become so strong that Russia wouldn't dare think of aggression.

The speaker doesn't think Russia wants to precipitate a war at this time.

Mr. Magidoff, speaking to an audience of 500 persons last night on "The Report On Russia," said the Russian people are taught to consider all foreigners as dangerous.

"The Kremlin's theory is to isolate their own people to keep them 'protected' from the 'predatory' nations on the outside," he declared. The Soviet leaders can't be sure of their own people unless they are separated, Magidoff said, adding that the Kremlin conducts a hate-America campaign to break up a wartime alliance.

Mr. Magidoff said it is no secret that Molotov runs the state in Russia. Premier Stalin, he said, suffers from heart trouble and has a paralyzed arm.

Mrs. Magidoff, a Russian who became an American citizen, spoke briefly. Walter Strain introduced the speakers.

The ex-cashier, whose salary was slightly more than $3,000 a year, admitted he took the money over a 29-year period. He was a Jackson church and civic leader until his arrest Feb. 16. He has said he took the money to cover living expenses.

McGrath Orders Satellite Funds In U. S. Tied Up

Sec. Acheson Hints Rupture Near With Hungary, Romania

By JOHN HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—(AP)—The sudden freezing of Bulgarian, Hungarian and Romanian assets in this country sent United States relations with the Soviet satellites skidding to a new low today.

Closely following the breaking of relations with Bulgaria earlier in the week, Attorney General McGrath announced last night that the United States has halted payments from bank accounts and other assets held here by citizens of the three Eastern European countries.

Only a few hours before, Secretary of State Acheson had indicated that this country has virtually given up hope of protecting American citizens and their interests in the three countries. He hinted that the next step may be the rupture of relations with Hungary and Romania.

The Justice department said the satellite assets were frozen because of a delay in compensating American claims in the three Communist nations.

It wouldn't say whether the action was connected with the conviction of American Businessman Robert Vogeler in Hungary a few days ago on charges of espionage. A Budapest court sentenced Vogeler to 15 years' imprisonment.

Similar charges have been hurled at American envoys in all three countries.

The United States broke off relations with Bulgaria Tuesday because that nation refused to drop its request for the recall of American Minister Donald Heath, whom it charged with plotting against the Sofia government.

In his news conference yesterday, Acheson made clear that this country feels Bulgaria took the initiative in forcing the break in relations. He indicated that the other two Balkan nations are trying to bring on similar action by keeping up the pressure against American diplomats.

In the case of Hungary, the State Department is now considering a demand that the United States reduce the size of its Budapest mission, some of whose members have been accused of spying.

It seems possible that this country will reject the charges but withdraw the individuals. In retaliation the Hungarians may be compelled to recall some of their representatives in Washington.

Acheson did not spell out the difficulties which have beset American officials in Romania but he dealt with that country along with the other two.

He said the State Department is not considering severing its ties with either Hungary or Romania, but he made clear that the possibility is wide open.

Three Hospitalized When Cars Collide

A two-month-old infant and two adults are in City Hospital today following an accident at 2:32 p. m. Friday on Route 45 near the junction of Routes 45 and 165.

Cars driven by Edward Pew, 21, of North Jackson and Raymond Rogers of the Damascus road collided head-on as Pew attempted to pass another car.

Mrs. Verdie Pew, 24, wife of the driver, received a fractured pelvis. Donald Pew, two months, has contusions of the forehead and Rogers suffered lacerations of the hand and leg. Pew received a bruised left arm but was not admitted for treatment.

The front ends of both cars were heavily damaged, state patrolmen said.

It will relate to the questions, "What can your church do to promote world unity?" and "What can you as an individual do to promote world unity?"

Women of the Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist and Christian churches sponsored the course. There was an average of 60 in attendance for the first three nights.

Mrs. Tallmadge, world traveler, visited a community house in London on a recent trip there. Through her description of this project, the local women have become interested. They are asked to bring old felt hats, especially bright colors, and also pieces of cotton material, which will make quilt patches, to the meeting. They will be sent to the Community House for handwork.

Confident Living

By DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Remedy For An Inferiority Complex

SOME TIME AGO, I was speaking before a convention of business men in a municipal auditorium in a midwestern city. After my speech, a man of about 40 came up to the stage and, in a very nervous manner asked if he could talk to me for a moment, privately I agreed, and we went around back of the stage scenery and sat down.

"I am in this town to handle the most important proposition of my life," the man told me. "If I succeed, it means everything to me, but, if I fail, I'm through."

I tried to tell him that he ought to relax a little, that he was probably

Dr. Peale taking things too seriously. After all, I said, nothing was that important. If he was successful, that was fine; but, if he wasn't, well, after all, tomorrow was another day. But I couldn't seem to satisfy him.

"MY TROUBLE is that I don't believe in myself," he said. "I just don't think I can put it over. I'm discouraged and depressed; I'm just about sunk. Here I am forty years old and I've never, all my life, been able to get away from a feeling of inferiority. Isn't there any way I can get faith in myself?"

"Well," I replied, "there are just two things which you should do. First you must find out why you have this inferiority complex. That requires analysis and will take a little time. There's really very little difference between our physical ailments and our emotional ones. They both require probing before we find out what's wrong."

"Then," I went on, "the second thing I want to suggest will help to pull you through your immediate problem. I'm going to give you a formula, some words that can help you. As you walk down the street to your hotel, I want you to keep repeating them. Say them over several times after you get into bed. When you awaken tomorrow morning, say them three times before you get out of bed. On the way to this important appointment of yours that you're so worried about, say them three more times. I guarantee that this procedure will give you the strength and ability to deal with this situation. Later, we can arrange an analysis of your basic problem, but, whatever we come up with, this formula will be an important factor in your cure."

These are the words I gave him: "I can do all things through God who giveth me the strength." He was unfamiliar with them and I wrote them out for him on a piece of paper and had him repeat them three times aloud. "Now," I said, "follow this prescription and I am sure things will come out right."

HE CAME to see me later and reported that my simple formula "did wonders" for him. "I never had any idea," he said, "that a few words from the Bible could do so much for a person."

This man, who I was able to refer to someone who could work with him and help him get to the bottom of his difficulties, is just one of many persons with strong feelings of inferiority. Many of these inferiority complexes stem from childhood experiences.

I can illustrate this from my own life. I was a minister's son and was constantly being reminded of it. Everybody else could do as he pleased, but I never could do anything without having my father's calling brought up. So, in self-defense, I became a little hardboiled just because preachers' sons are always expected to be nice and somewhat namby-pamby.

Perhaps that is how the tradition of preachers' sons always being a little difficult first started. Now, every time I, as a minister, have to tell my own son that he cannot do something all his friends are doing, I wonder whether I'm giving him an inferiority complex.

SUCH CHILDHOOD experiences as these instill in us strong feelings of self-doubt and insecurity. They take away the faith we should have in ourselves. To regain this faith, we need to analyze ourselves and find what is keeping it from us. And we need to look beyond ourselves, for a strength that is greater.

Some people can do this alone, others will need guidance from a pastor or a doctor or a psychologist. Then, having found the cause of our difficulty, we can cure ourselves by filling the mind to overflowing with faith. We can do this by getting a tremendous faith in God and experiencing His healing power. That, in turn, will give us a humble, sound, realistic faith in ourselves.

If you are bothered by feelings of inferiority, begin now to use the formula I gave the businessman. Go further than that. Read the Bible and practice its principles. Get help from your minister or physician. Learn to have faith and you can build up confidence within yourself that will stand firm no matter how great your problem.

"WHERE THOUSANDS HAVE SAVED MILLIONS"

Veteran Bonus Raises Taxes

Ohio's Bill Will Rise
20 Cents Per $1,000

COLUMBUS, Feb. 25—(INS)—If you own your $5,000 home, your taxes probably will go up $1 a year next year to help pay for the Ohio veterans' bonus.

And they will stay at least that much higher through 1963.

So says State Treasurer Don H. Ebricht, a member of the Ohio sinking fund commission which has charge of the bond retirements. He estimated that a levy of about 20 cents on each $1,000 valuation of all real property in the state will have to be levied next year.

But it's not as bad as it might be. State Tax Commissioner C. Emory Glander had estimated that the levy might be as much as $1 per $1,000.

The exact levy will have to be certified soon by the sinking fund commission, which must certify it to the county auditors by July 1 for collection beginning next December.

Ebricht said that the levy could be stalled off another year or so by legislative action. He stated:

"I'd urge that, should the governor call a special session of the legislature prior to July 1, he give consideration to a recommendation that the legislature appropriate $2,238,000 out of the ten millions in unappropriated state funds to meet these (1951) maturities."

The commission will have enough money on hand to meet the bond maturities of April, 1951. The levy will be necessary to pay the October maturities and those after that date.

Ebricht said that the levy might go up as high as 40 cents in future years.

The state issued $212,500,000 in bonds to pay the bonus, approved by the voters in November of 1947. The legislature added 25 million from the state surplus, and then also put 20 millions into the bond retirement fund.

The Constitutional amendment authorizing the bonus provided that the bonds be retired by taking the first one million dollars to come into the state treasury each month. The remainder necessary is to come from a levy on real estate.

Dayton Crash Kills 2 Airmen

British War Hero
Victim; 3rd Man Safe

DAYTON, Feb. 25—(AP)—The explosion and crash of a four-engine jet bomber yesterday cost the lives of two airmen—one of them a British war hero.

They were identified by Wright-Patterson Air force base officials as:

Wing Commander Derek S. Pain, 31, a Royal Air Force exchange officer whose British address was listed as Barclays Bank, Ltd., Upper Norwood, London.

Master Sergeant Darel R. Snyder, 31, of Washington Court House, O.

Commander Pain, whose rank corresponded to that of a USAF lieutenant colonel, was believed to have been piloting the plane when it exploded.

A third man, Capt. John L. Armstrong of Fairborn, O., escaped death with a low-level parachute jump four miles northwest of the Wright-Patterson field where the bomber was based.

Commander Pain came to this country some months ago with his wife, Margaret, and their 18-month-old daughter, who live at Wilmington, O. Commander Pain held the Distinguished Flying Cross, but Wright-Patterson officials said they did not know whether he was decorated by the RAF or the USAF.

Sgt. Snyder is survived by his wife and 18-month-old son at Washington Court House and his mother at Sabina, O. He was an aircraft maintenance technician and had been with the Air Force 11 years.

Senators May Fight To Get Loyalty Files

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—(AP)—Republicans today threatened a court fight to get secret loyalty files into the hands of a Senate committee ordered to hunt down any Communists in the State Department.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb) talked of prosecuting Secretary of State Acheson for contempt, if necessary.

The GOP lawmakers seemed unlikely to get Democratic help, particularly if Senator Tydings (D-Md) heads the inquiry group. President Truman made clear at yesterday's White House news conference that the Department's loyalty files won't be given to the Senate foreign relations committee.

The President notified government departments last year that they are not to release confidential files on government employees. He said yesterday he is standing by that decision.

That cast some doubt on whether Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) will furnish the committee with a full list of the 81 persons he said are Communists who either had been or are now working for the department.

KILLED BY FUMES

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25—(AP)—A Lakewood man died in his garage last night, apparently overcome by carbon monoxide fumes while trying to remove a coating of ice from his car. The victim was Frank J. Drabik, 49. Police of the suburb said the car's ignition was turned on and the fuel tank empty.

Confiscated Liquor Problem Faces State

COLUMBUS, Feb. 25—(AP)—The state liquor director said today he may ask the attorney general to tell him what to do with liquor confiscated from former permit holders.

Director Oscar L. Fleckner added:

"There are several matters which I want to discuss with the liquor board before I decide whether to request an opinion of the attorney general."

The State Supreme Court ruled yesterday that a section of the state liquor law authorizing confiscation of legal liquor upon revocation or cancellation of a permit is unconstitutional.

Fleckner said restoration would present few difficulties if the confiscated liquor still is "on hand." But, he said, if seized liquor has been destroyed by statute, "I can throw up my hands."

"I don't intend to replace the liquor from our own stock," Fleckner said. "I am willing to wait and let the court tell me what to do."

MAKE LIQUIDATION

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25—(AP)—The eighth and final liquidating dividend of the old Guardian Trust Co. will be made by mail, Charles F. Carr said today. Carr is state deputy superintendent of banking in charge of the Guardian liquidation. The dividend, which will approximate 2 1/2 per cent, will be paid as holders give up their certificates. Previous dividends have brought depositors and creditors 80 cents on the dollar.

Our Quaker City Band

SALEM citizens who are not taking advantage of the year-round concerts offered by the American Legion Quaker City Band are missing out on good musical entertainment.

About 500 persons, young and old alike, heard the band's mid-winter concert Thursday night in the High School auditorium, but there were fully 300 seats unoccupied. It is fairly obvious that many individuals, unless they just don't like band music, have never heard the Salem band.

Once having heard the Quaker City bandmen, the music lover would be certain to be on hand for the next program because the type of music and the stellar manner in which it is presented calls for an encore.

Directed by the able George D. Chappell, son of the original Quaker City Band leader, the 60-piece aggregation is made up of an outstanding group of musicians from Salem and the surrounding district. Many of them are instructors in their own musical fields, others are capable musicians playing in the band because they love music and are proud to be a member of Salem's American Legion group.

The bandmen aspire to enter musical competition far from home and to bring recognition not only to the Quaker City Band but to the City of Salem. They deserve our loyal support.

Teeter Government

BRITAIN'S election produced a standoff instead of a showdown. The Labor party's scant majority in the House of Commons, even if padded with the handful of Liberal party members who squeaked through, will not give it a working majority. Labor politicians will take their cue from the voting and start to hedge.

The political observers who predicted a labor landslide apparently were no slicker at their trade than the observers in the United States before the last general election. They guessed wrong, and among the red necks are some of the same ones which were red in this country a year ago last November.

Their error can be traced to the same miscalculation that was made here. The observers knew more about the mumbo-jumbo of politics than they knew about what was in the minds of voters. They became so preoccupied with probabilities that they neglected the possibility that the probabilities might be upset.

It now is evident that the Labor party had been losing popular confidence at a rate which never had been visible until revealed by a general election. It is therefore apparent that before long the Labor party will be challenged to a vote of confidence in the House of Commons and may lose its right to name a prime minister. The standoff at the polls on Thursday then will be reflected in a standoff in parliament. The result of that either will be some form of coalition, or another general election. Government will teeter in the balance until one side or the other can assert dominance. In the meantime, neither side will be able to carry out a program.

A thumping majority for the Labor party would have been construed as a mandate to carry out its program of socialism. A victory by the Conservative party would have been construed as a mandate to check further advances into socialism and to tighten up administration of socialist measures already in effect.

Neither of these things happened. Instead there is a standoff. Both parties now are handcuffed. The decision they sought at the polls will have to be sought again, in the ways prescribed by British parliamentary government. Until that happens, pat conclusions are futile. It is apparent that the British Labor party has passed its peak, just as it was apparent that the United States new deal coalition has passed its peak when it was licked in the congressional election of 1946. But two years later it was back in power again. By 1952 it probably will begin to be plain what really happened in Great Britain last Thursday.

Reprieve

THE PUBLIC'S dependence on telephones can be continued for another 60 days, according to an announcement by the president of C. I. O. Communications Workers of America. Before the end of that period, it may happen that the union and management may discover a way to provide telephone service without interruption.

On the other hand, if they make no progress during the next few weeks, the government of the United States is empowered by an act of Congress to take steps to forestall what would be a national emergency. Unfortunately, the government of the United States at this time is controlled by an administration which does not choose to use its authority because it is afraid it might lose voters. It had 10 months in which to intervene in behalf of the public welfare in the coal industry.

House Freezin'

NEW YORK

IT WAS THE day before the Peebles were to move out to their new house in the suburbs.

Their flat was already torn up, and empty movers' barrels littered the place. "I've got a surprise for you, Trellis Mae," Wilbur told his wife as he started off to work. "We're going to have an apartment freezin' tonight."

"What is an apartment freezin'?" asked Trellis Mae. "I don't believe I ever heard of one."

Wilbur explained that it was just the reverse of a housewarming party.

"You invite all your friends," he said. "But instead of bringing you gifts they divvy up among themselves all the junk you've accumulated and don't want to take with you to a new house. We must have tons of stuff like that."

Wilbur could see a frown flicker across his wife's face. "But it'll save us money, too," he added. "The moving men would charge at least $35 to pack all these barrels. Our friends can help us do that tonight—and I'll let you have the $35 to buy yourself a present."

"WELL—" HESITATED Trellis Mae, torn between common sense and a desire to get an easy $35 from her husband. "Something tells me—oh well, never mind. Do as you like, Wilbur."

The historic Peeble apartment freezin' began calmly enough at 8 o'clock that night when half a dozen close friends of the family assembled.

By 9:30 two of the four empty barrels had been carefully packed. The guests were perspiring by then, and beginning to grumble goodnaturedly.

"When does the giveaway program start?"

Well, when the Peebles got right down to parceling out what they had thought they wouldn't want to take with them—they found they did want to take it with them.

They did decide they could do without a file of the National Geographic, complete from 1917 through 1932, but there were no takers. Nor would anyone accept a gilt-framed, hand-tinted photo of great Uncle Wilberforce Peeble, who won a pension and a good conduct ribbon for getting sick on a can of spoiled beef in the Spanish-American war.

"This is pure fraud, Wilbur," complained a guest. "If you aren't going to give anything away, you might at least put out something to eat and drink."

So Wilbur phoned for some sandwiches, a case of beer and three bottles of bourbon.

By midnight the guests were throwing silver and dishes into the third barrel with both hands. At one a. m., Amos Fenner, the neighbor below, appeared at the door in pajamas and bathrobe to complain of the noise. At 2 a. m., Fenner was in a corner by himself singing "Down By the Old Mill Stream" in four parts.

By Hal Boyle

"I'VE GOT a sick headache," said Trellis Mae at 3 a. m., and went to bed.

Shortly after 10 a. m., Wilbur awoke to find himself rolled up in the living room rug. He looked one way and saw Trellis Mae lifting a beer bottle out of the phonograph. He looked across another path of chaos and saw three men in work clothes staring at him silently.

"The movers say they never saw such a mess," said Trellis Mae bitterly. "They want $50 to clean it up."

"Okay," mumbled Wilbur. Then, noticing a blank space on the wall, he asked:

"Where's the television set?"

"I suspect," said his wife, "you gave it away. And if you want it back, you know who's going to ask for it, too."

Just then groans emerged from the fourth barrel, and a pale, scarecrow face swam over the rim.

"Why, what are you doing in there, Mr. Fenner?" demanded Wilbur.

"I don't know," whispered the face, "but if you aren't out of this neighborhood in four hours I'm going to call the police." Fenner then stood up—and fell out of the barrel.

Wilbur pulled a fold of the rug over his head. "Just go on with the moving, boys," he said.

Later their new neighbors rather wondered why the Peebles didn't throw a housewarming party. But, of course, they didn't know about the apartment freezin'.

Getting a Bit Frayed—

Military Funds And The National Debt

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON

THERE'S a drive on to augment armament expenditures by about $4,000,000,000, which would further increase the deficit and postpone indefinitely the time for a return to a balanced budget.

President Truman and Defense Secretary Louis Johnson are standing firmly against the drive, which apparently is coming from outside the armed services.

The basic claim being made in an effort to induce Congress to expand appropriations is that the United States is weak and not prepared for war.

Much of the criticism is rather unjustly concentrated on the Secretary of Defense, who, after all, is given by the director of the budget the amount that the President, as the final authority, decides shall be spent by all the armed services.

THE QUESTION of whether the armament which the United States now has is sufficient is one that depends for its answer on a definition of the meaning of the word "adequate." From the viewpoint purely of military theory, it would take from $25,000,000,000 to $50,000,000,000 a year to be prepared in every sense for an outbreak of war.

What a democracy, however, with a limited amount of money available out of a peacetime economy, must do is set up a defense establishment capable of immediate expansion. If that definition is applied, then the United States is ready for instant warfare and for the immediate expansion of each service in the months that ensue.

Certainly the U. S. Air Force, which is the main instrument of instant retaliation, is in readiness to deliver retaliatory blows. No nation in the world with a government in its right senses will wish to invite the kind of retaliatory action of which America is capable today.

But, along with the U. S. Air Force, there are retaliatory blows which can be struck from the seas as well as from bases across the oceans. To follow up on such moves in succeeding weeks, it will be necessary to reactivate ships and planes now in "mothballs." The manpower for such rearmament of World War II ships and planes is available because reserves are steadily being trained for that purpose.

IT IS TRUE that Russia is building ships and planes, but the United States has in reserve far more aircraft and ships than Russia is now building and enough anti-submarine strength to cope with any menace to shipping.

The key to preparedness lies in the kind of reserves trained for each of the three armed services. America has always depended on its regulars to form the nucleus of wartime operating forces.

The public has been led to believe that next time there will not be time to stabilize armies and navies. There wouldn't be if the counter-attack from the United States were not effective. But nothing has happened to our defense forces which in any way justifies the assumption that our retaliatory blows would not be effective. The power of the potential enemy to wage war would diminish from the day war broke out, as American strength would begin to grow.

THE PRESIDENT has authorized approximately $13,500,000,000 for all three armed services for the current fiscal year. This is a large sum, and the armed service chiefs are well aware of the necessity of staying within their budgets. It is gratifying indeed to note the acceptance of budget limitations within all three services. The attitude toward economy and maximum use of the military dollar has undergone a remarkable improvement in recent weeks.

The Secretary of Defense has accepted the task of holding the budget to the limits set and is striving to make economies in overhead and auxiliary services. Cutting expenses in government always produces repercussions and criticisms.

But it is significant to note that the reductions which have been made are in line with a definite policy which assumes a continuance of peacetime conditions for the next few years at least. Even if a war arises, however, the scheme of our defense organization is such as to permit of instantaneous expansion.

The veterans of World War II are not yet too old to have lost their skills, and a refresher course of a few weeks will bring a manpower strength quite comparable to war conditions.

The drive to unbalance the budget by $4,000,000,000 in the name of national security will not succeed unless a war crisis develops. Then appropriations, of course, would naturally skyrocket far beyond any such figure. The outlook is for peace—and for the continuance of a military budget that the national economy can stand.

Superstitions About Childbirth

THERE are many superstitions about childbirth and whether a child will be a boy or a girl. Many of these superstitions go directly back to the earliest human history. The first question today is typical.

Q—I am told that if conception takes place in the morning the child will be a boy and if in the evening, it will be a girl. Is there anything to this? M. H.

A—We know enough about the determination of sex to be sure that this is not true. Sex is determined at the time when the egg is fertilized but this has no relationship to the time of day.

Q—What is it that causes a person to talk in his sleep? M. A. L.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

THERE are signs of a tougher army policy in Germany... It has not been tried on the Russians yet, but two of our fellows were court-martialed for bad table manners.

It was charged that they refused to pass the catsup to a sergeant. They claimed he was the kind of sergeant who could see red without catsup.

Nobody told them when they enlisted that the Army had a post named Emily Post, but they learned that ignorance of the law is a breach of etiquette if not peace.

It is getting so when a fellow joins up he is not sure whether he should report to Fort Dix or Dorothy Dix, but even if we do not have a strong army abroad we're going to have a polite one.

Of course it will take a little longer to turn out good soldiers...figuring which fork to use could add another six weeks to basic training.

But any good soldier knows the courtesy begins with the sergeant... If you can be civil to him you can maintain peace anywhere.

And so on. But of all the pressure groups operating in Washington, union labor headquarters are now the most vocal and put out the largest volume of stuff. They take stands on everything, whether the issue has anything to do with labor or not. For instance, they protest to the State Department on the furnishing of arms to the Arabs by the British. CIO Executive Board, at its recent one-day session in Congress, passed resolutions on 22 different subjects now before Congress and the administrative agencies in some form.

It takes a smart congressman to chuck all this stuff in the wastebasket, or let it flow in one ear and out the other, in order to make up his own mind on all issues, in the national interest.

Editor, The Salem News: I would like to call your attention to some facts with reference to Columbiana County's Child Welfare program which were overlooked by the author of the letter to your paper on that subject last night.

He referred to the secrecy with which our program is being administered, and I would like to call attention to the fact that your newspaper, on numerous occasions, carried stories with reference to happenings in this department and accounts of our planning with reference to the children over these last four years. The write-up which called to mind the situation concerning the Christmas Party was the fourth such write-up in your paper. In addition to this, there have been pictures illustrating the nature of the work throughout this period of time.

The law pertaining to the care of dependent and neglected children does not specify that they be maintained in a Children's Home. For if it did, practically all of the Child Welfare programs in the state would be out of line—even the program conducted by Fairmount Children's Home for years before this Welfare Department was formed, for of the 130 Columbiana County children provided custodial care in 1946, 80 of them were in foster homes, and only 50 in the Children's Home. The policy of Fairmount Children's Home for years has been to keep all children under school age in foster homes. At the time this Department was formed, it was the request of Stark County that we remove the children who were in Stark County foster homes, so that they could have that room available for their own children. This we did as promptly as possible.

The Foster Home program grew in this county to such an extent that we were able to take care of all of our children in foster homes. After observing the attitudes of these children in these foster homes as compared to those in the Children's Home, we felt that the program was a success, in that the children are better adjusted socially to meeting a normal way of living.

Secondly, from a financial point of view, as verified by the recent article in your paper, the administrative costs of Fairmount Children's Home has been more than double the cost of maintaining children in foster homes. The Foster Homes are paid $30 per month for feeding the child-

Capital Lobbying

By PETER EDSON

The Cast Is Big, Some Plots Pretty Good

EVERY SO OFTEN, it is useful to make a list of what some of the bigger lobbies and pressure groups in Washington are working for and are up to. It gives a better idea of what goes on here. It helps explain why a lot of things are or aren't being done by Congress.

Biggest lobbying activity in town right now is on tax reduction. Over 200 organizations and individuals wanted to testify on this subject before the House Ways and Means Committee. The job of chopping down the witnesses to manageable numbers was tremendous.

Perhaps the newest organization to appear on the lobbying front in this connection is a National Committee for Repeal of Wartime Excise Taxes, of New York. President Truman has of course recommended cutting taxes only to the extent that other taxes are raised.

But the N. C. for R. of W. E. T. sent a high-powered delegation to town to insist on "across the board" repeal of excise taxes. Among its witnesses were Eric Johnston of the movies, Andre Bulova of the watch company, Louis Ruthenberg of Servel.

Stanley Rittenberg of CIO also favored repeal of excise taxes, but the similarity stopped there.

INCIDENTALLY, the economic adviser to the N. C. for R. of W. E. T. was none other than your old friend Leon Henderson, once boss of OPA and generally damned then as the enemy of all businessmen.

Right up the same alley, the Radio Manufacturers Association was on hand to register a protest against Treasury's proposal to slap a 10 per cent tax on new TV set purchases.

James C. Petrillo of the musicians' union wants the 20 per cent entertainment tax cut. He says this tax is responsible for the 23 per cent drop in cabaret and dance hall business in the last two years, with resulting unemployment for his musicians. But he doesn't explain why admissions were so high before, under the same tax.

ren properly, keeping their clothing washed and mended, and supervising them all the time they are not in school. Thus, since we feel the children are not only getting more natural family care, but getting it at a much more reasonable cost to the taxpayers, we feel this move has been beneficial to the children first, and to the taxpayers secondly.

The foster homes in our county are licensed by the Division of Social Administration of the State Department of Welfare and supervised by workers from the local Welfare Department, with frequent visits. The frequency of the visit is determined by the extent of problems presented by the boys and girls in these homes. The boys and girls are attending the public schools in Columbiana county sharing the same privileges as every other boy and girl in each school. Any of them attending schools where there are band facilities are eligible to play in the band. Their play is supervised by the foster mother and father, who are personally interested in each one of the children.

The size of the foster family has been limited to five or six children, except in cases of emergency, in order to keep the family situation as nearly normal as possible. Every case of mal-adjustment between the children and the foster parents has been investigated promptly and adjusted either by talking the situation over with the foster parent and child or by removing the child into a home where he can have a better feeling toward family life. They are provided medical care as needed through the family doctor of the family with whom they are living, just as any other boy or girl in their home receive. If hospitalization is necessary, they are hospitalized immediately.

Columbiana County Commissioners are planning on erecting a Receiving Home here in our own county to complete our Foster Home program.

The Columbiana County Welfare Department will welcome any citizen who hears of any specific mal-adjustment and will go with that citizen to investigate it.

The one benefit obtained by children in a foster home that cannot be supplied in a group institution is INDIVIDUAL LOVE AND ATTENTION.

Make Meatless Lenten Dishes

FOR menus based on meatless main dishes, these substantial vegetable recipes are delicious and different:

Beans Baked in Tomatoes (Serves 6)

Six large firm tomatoes, 1 jar oven-baked beans, 1 pound 2 ounces, ¼ cup finely diced green pepper, ½ teaspoon grated onion, 2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons grated cheese.

Cut slice from top of each tomato. Remove pulp and save for other use. Lightly salt insides of cups. Combine all remaining ingredients but cheese in saucepan and heat thoroughly. Place tomato cups in greased muffin pan and fill with bean mixture. Sprinkle each with cheese. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until tomatoes are tender, about 30 minutes.

Indian Beans With Rice (Serves 4)

One-quarter cup bacon fat, 1 clove garlic, minced, ½ cup each, finely diced onion and celery, 1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet, 8-ounce can tomato sauce, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1½ teaspoons chili powder, 1 No. 2 can kidney beans, 1 cup shredded green pepper, 1 cup pre-cooked rice.

Place fat in saucepan over moderate heat. Add garlic and let cook 1 minute. Add onion and celery and cook about 5 minutes. Stir in kitchen bouquet. Add tomato sauce and seasonings. Bring to boil and add beans and green pepper.

Let simmer uncovered over low heat until green pepper is just cooked, about 15 minutes. Meanwhile heat rice according to directions on package. Serve beans over rice.

Mashed cooked dry beans make a nutritious base for meatless sandwiches if teamed up with eggs or cheese.

With the mashed cooked beans, use egg mayonnaise, chopped hard-cooked eggs or cheese. Catsup, minced onion, chopped celery or pickle relish may be added.

13th Annual Santa Anita $100,000 Handicap Goes Today

Calumet Trio Is Rated Best

Favored Over Field Of 11 Thoroughbreds.

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 25.—(AP)—“Handicap day” struck this community on the outskirts of Los Angeles today and excitement mounted by the hour as post time approached for the start of the 13th renewal of Santa Anita's famed $100,000 horse race.

Excellent racing weather and a fast track lent credence to the belief that all of the 11 thoroughbreds entered in the race would answer the bell (at about 7:35 p. m. Eastern Standard time), and that the Calumet entry of Citation, Ponder and Two Lea was a mortal lock to sweep major honors.

Barring scratches, here was the lineup, in post position order, jockeys and weights for the mile and one quarter gallop for gold:

Two Lea, Johnny Gilbert, 113 pounds; Old Rockport, Gordon Glisson, 115; Noor, Johnny Longden, 109; Ponder, Steve Brooks, 124; Citation, Eddie Arcaro, 132; Moonrush, Bill Pearson, 111; My Request, Eric Guerin, 122; Buy Why Not, William Boland, 111; Solidarity, Ralph Neves, 118; Mische, Jackie Westrope, 115; and On Trust, Johnny Adams, 117.

Citation, bringing his comeback campaign to its climax, aiming at the turf's all-time money winning championship and restoring his reputation as one of the sport's all-time greats, carried the big appeal of the classic.

But veteran horsemen were skeptical that the star of Warren Wright's fabulous string had regained the brilliant form he flashed as the triple crown champ of 1948.

To them, Ponder, the stable's 1949 Kentucky Derby winner and victor two weeks ago over Citation, looked like the best horse of the Calumet entry.

It's Calumet, Too, In Widener Handicap

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 25.—(AP)—It's Coaltown against the field today in the 13th renewal of Hialeah race track's $50,000 Added Widener Handicap.

The Calumet farm flyer, defending champion in the mile and a quarter classic, must yield 14 to 28 pounds to the ten other handicap veterans in the most famous race of the Florida winter season.

Coaltown has been assigned 132 pounds, two more than any previous entry in the 12-year history of the event. In his last outing, Coaltown ran third behind Mrs. E. L. Hopkins' Three Rings and Mrs. E. D. Weir's Royal Governor in the McLennan.

The Widener field includes

Merkle Still Living With His Famous Bonehead Play

By HARRY GRAYSON
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — (NEA)—Fred Merkle was in the back, the man said.

That's where we found the Giants' famous old first baseman—in the rear room of a fishing float manufacturing shop in this cozy resort town.

Merkle has been in the background for the 23 years that have elapsed since his brilliant 22-year career in organized baseball ended in 1927.

After all this time, Merkle, still a striking figure of a man at 61, shuns the public for fear of being called Bonehead.

He never lived down the mistake he made in September, 1908, when, as a 19-year-old kid out of Toledo, O., in a key game with the Cubs, he failed to touch second base as Harry McCormick crossed the plate with what would otherwise have been the winning run for the Giants.

“They'd call me Bonehead today if I showed myself,” says the old-timer, bitterly.

“As a player, I became caloused to it after awhile, but it was tough on the missis, and worse as my three daughters grew up. It finally got on my nerves.”

We talked about the many great players he played with, of his trip around the world with the Giants and White Sox starting in the fall of 1913, before I brought up the most highly publicized boner of all time, as tactfully as I could.

All the while I could see the large man with the fine head of still black hair and bushy eyebrows waiting for the big question he knew was sure to come, and which for 42 tortuous years has hurt him to the quick.

SAFE VIEW—Spectators get a close but safe view of proceedings from behind glass partition as Tony Leswick, left, of the Rangers and Bill Ezinicki of Toronto go after each other instead of the puck in Madison Square Garden. New York defeated the Maple Leafs, 2-1, in National Hockey League game.

Royal Governor, 118; Cherry Oca stable's entry of Pellicle, 104, and First Nighter, 107; Arnold Hanger's Balan, 115; Correl stable's Salleguillo, 116; Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Lower Weeper, 110; Sidney S. Schupper's Miss Disco, 104; Addison stable's Arise, 109; Dickey stable's Shakeme, 105, and Brookmeade stable's Going Away, 110.

The Calumet juggernaut was the odds makers heavy favorite at a 2 to 5 on the “overnight line.”

Royal Governor, winner of six important stakes last year and runner up in the McLennan, was second choice at 4 to 1.

Arise, winner of the Travers and Canadian handicap last year, was third choice with Ted Atkinson assigned the riding duties. The overnight odds were quoted at 8 to 1.

The balance of the field was rated as 20 to 1 outsiders.

LaMotta Hurt; Out Of Cleveland Fight

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Because Jake LaMotta, world middleweight champion, injured his left hand sparring, his 10-round bout with Cleveland's Chuck Hunter at the Arena March 9 has been called off.

Matchmaker Larry Atkins hopes to sign as a replacement for the champ one of these four fighters—Ray (Sugar) Robinson, Laurent Dauthuille, Steve Belloise, or Lee Sala.

13, the Dodgers in '16 and the Cubs in '18 and as a coach with the Yankees in '26, yet is remembered almost entirely as Bonehead Merkle.

There were two out in the ninth when young Merkle sprinted to the Polo Grounds clubhouse in center field without touching second base.

The Cubs claimed they retrieved the ball as the crowd flooded the field, produced one at least, and the force-out stood.

Accentuating the slip was the Giants later losing the resultant play-off that sent the Cubs into the World Series.

What young Merkle did was common practice up to that time, although the Cubs had pulled the stunt in Pittsburgh several days previous.

Merkle never offered force of habit as an alibi.

“I should have touched second base,” he says, “but I was a kid, and had pinch-hit only twice since early July. Fred Tenney, who was hurt, was the regular first baseman.”

Records didn't indicate that the never-to-be-forgotten rock affected Merkle's play.

“Certainly it did,” says Merkle. “It made me nervous. I dreaded making another bull, couldn't take chances, had to play the game close to the vest.”

“What grieves me most is that while people, especially the New York baseball writers, were thoughtless enough at the time, the whole thing would have subsided had the Giants won just one of the five games they lost in the remaining 17.”

“Yet I suppose that when I die the epitaph on my tombstone will read: ‘Here lies Bonehead Merkle.’”

The tragic story of Fred Merkle should make those who shout at athletes making a grievous error in severe competition think.

Charles-Beshore Fight Set Back

Ezzard Claims Sore Ribs Cause Of Delay

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 25.—(AP)—The air was charged and countercharged today as Ezzard Charles retired in the direction of Cincinnati to rest up from a sore side.

The NBA heavyweight champion came up with his ache last night, just four days before he was to place his crown on the line for the benefit of Freddie Beshore.

Anguished screams arising from the Beshore camp would have one believe that Ezzard would like just a little more time to get ready for Beshore, the Harrisburg, Pa., body-puncher.

Varsity screamer for Beshore was Ralph Gold, under whose management Freddie fights. Gold figures Charles' pain “must have come out of the blue.”

“In my opinion,” said Gold, “he didn't think he was in good enough condition for my boy.”

But Jake Mintz, Ezzard's manager, declared that Charles was injured during a workout Thursday with sparring-mate Jeff Clanton. He got a lump on a rib, said Jake, but should be able to face the 15-round bout with Beshore about April 5.

This is a happy coincidence. April is the precise date that the Fairview Athletic Club would like to stage the fight.

Mintz, Gold and Dewey Michaels, promoter of Fairview, will thrash out the details some time today.

Roach Death Termed Accidental By State

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Five doctors okayed boxer Lavern Roach for his fatal fight of last Wednesday night and an autopsy showed death was “accidental.”

These facts were revealed at yesterday's open hearing conducted by the state athletic commission, with Chairman Eddie Egan presiding and 10 witnesses in attendance. Egan said a report will be made “sometime next wee.”

Another probe was launched behind closed doors at the district attorney's office and will be continued Monday. Twenty witnesses appeared for the investigation, including many who had attended the state commission's hearing.

Only 5 Tribesmen Are Left Unsigned

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25.—(AP)—With less than a week remaining before the start of spring training, the Cleveland Indians today had five players still unsigned.

Catcher Jim Hegan, pitcher Bob Lemon, second baseman Johnny Berardino, infielder Roberto Avila and pitcher Red Embree make up the unsatisfied group.

The club announced yesterday that Orestes Minoso, the 26-year-old outfielder from Cuba, was the latest player to sign. Minoso batted .297 and hit 22 home runs for San Diego last season.

Tribe officials also reported that an agreement was expected to be reached shortly with Hegan.

Hank Greenberg, general manager for the club, talked with the backstop by phone at his Lynn, Mass., home yesterday. Hegan wants the same terms he received last season. The first contract the club sent him, called for a 25 per cent pay cut.

Ohio Farm Crop Down 11 Percent

Lower Prices Have Influence On Fall

COLUMBUS, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Value of Ohio's chief farm crops declined about 11 per cent last year, the Ohio Cooperative Crop Reporting service said today.

Crops in 1949 were valued at about $547,000,000, compared with about $617,000,000 in 1948.

The report showed total value of the seven species of livestock dropped from $478,873,000 a year ago to $419,041,000 this January, a decrease of 12 per cent. The dip in value was caused by lower prices, the Crop Reporting service said.

A huge outturn of principal crops, second only to the record 1948 total, was produced in 1949.

"The crop season was mostly favorable," the report said, "but several important crops or areas suffered setbacks sometime during the season."

The total planted acreage of Ohio's 52 principal crops was the largest since 1933 and the acreage harvested the largest since 1932.

Wheat production of 60,000,000 bushels was the largest wheat crop ever grown in Ohio. Corn, with 202,500,000 bushels, was the second largest corn crop on record in the state.

Soybeans, with more than 20,000,000 bushels, were exceeded only in 1942, 1943 and 1944, when the acreage was considerably larger than in 1949, the Crop Service reported.

Crops which fell below the 1948 production were corn, oats, barley, rye, buckwheat, popcorn, red clover seed, alfalfa clover seed, potatoes and cigar-filler tobacco.

The value of all cattle per head dropped from $146 to $132 in 1949. Stock sheep values dropped 6 per cent, from $15,174,000 to $14,229,000.

Total value of hogs was estimated 22 per cent lower, and chickens were down 16 per cent in total value.

Youthful Slayer Dies In Ohio Chair

COLUMBUS, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The youthful slayer of an Athens church worker died mumbled a prayer last night.

Harry D. Dodds, Jr., 21, of New Straitsville, was executed at Ohio penitentiary for the claw-hammer slaying of Miss Eleanor Gifford, 52.

As Prison Chaplain K. E. Wall intoned the 23rd Psalm and the Lord's Prayer, Dodds walked, eyes closed, to the electric chair. He was pronounced dead just 10 minutes later.

The grim-faced, husky youth was baptized in the Baptist faith several hours before his death. Prior to his last meal he sat through a Holy Communion service with the prison chaplain.

In a distant cell block sat Grover E. Rawlins, 18, of St. Clairsville, serving a life sentence for his part in the robbery-slaying of Miss Gifford. In Athens county jail, James B. Armstrong, 26, of Columbus awaited arraignment on murder charges in connection with the same case.

Miss Gifford was beaten to death Jan. 3, 1949. Police charged the trio robbed her home of $140, a watch and two cameras. When the woman returned and discovered them, Dodds hit her with a claw hammer.

Rawlins gave this version of the murder:

"I heard a thud. Miss Gifford was lying on the floor and Dodds was standing over her, hitting her on the head."

"We attempted to stop Dodds from injuring her further," the former soldier said. "Dodds did not say anything, but continued to strike Miss Gifford with a hammer."

An Athens resident, who gave the first clue to the slayer, said Dodds blamed Miss Gifford for his sentence to Mansfield. The New Straitsville youth knew the church worker through meetings she conducted near his home.

Dealers Fight RFC Action

Lustron Salesmen To Dispute Foreclosure

ROCKFORD, Ill., Feb. 25—(AP)—A committee of 12 Lustron dealers will go to Columbus, O., Monday to fight the government's foreclosure of the big prefabricated housing firm.

This was announced last night by W. W. Lobdell, Rockford Lustron dealer. He said he is heading the committee.

The Reconstruction Finance Corp., through which the government's loans were made to the Columbus firm, filed foreclosure action against Lustron last Tuesday in Federal court at Columbus. The suit seeks return of about $36,466,000 the RFC loaned to Lustron.

Lobdell said the committee was formed "as a result of a high-handed refusal by RFC to hear the dealer case." Harley Hise, RFC board chairman, refused the dealers a hearing, Lobdell said.

The dealer's committee will hold a policy meeting in Columbus to determine "what legal and other steps can be taken to protect the dealers' estimated $10,000,000 investment in the corporation," Lobdell announced in his role as acting head of the committee.

Lobdell added that the "220 Lustron dealers are all small business men, and we are not willing to sit still while RFC pulls the rug from under us."

He said the committee will attend the Lustron hearing Monday in Federal court in Columbus and will seek a meeting with Hise.

Three men on the committee are from Ohio. They are Virgil Lucas of Lima, L. L. Manley of Sandusky and John S. Coble of Toledo.

Lobdell said the dealers' investments are made up of funds for franchise rights, buildings and storage space, tools and schooling for employees.

Coal Strike Benefits Get BUC Attention

COLUMBUS, Feb. 25—(AP)—Ohio's Bureau of Unemployment Compensation said today benefit claims from workers idled by the coal strike will get prompt attention.

Strikers can not draw jobless compensation but other workers laid off because their plants shut down as a result of the mine stoppage are eligible.

BUC Administrator Frank J. Collopy reported temporary enlargement of local office space to handle claims in Youngstown, Massillon, Alliance, East Palestine, Springfield and Portsmouth. He said benefit claims dropped during the week ended Feb. 18. The decline occurred in the number of newly unemployed workers and in the total of those out of work for one or more weeks.

Claims filed by the newly jobless totaled 13,821, compared with 15,379 for the week ended Feb. 11. Continued claims dropped to 150,178, compared with 154,118 for the like period.

Knisley Hits At Lausche's Funds

COLUMBUS, Feb. 25—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche's principal election foe fired another broadside at him today.

Clarence H. Knisley, former state treasurer, blasted Lausche's ban on solicitation of state workers for political campaign contributions.

Knisley's prepared statement said:

"History is repeating itself for the third time with the governor trying to fool the people into thinking that money is not contributed to his campaign."

"How about the large contributions made by the friends of the utilities in the other campaigns—will contributions of this kind be returned?"

Lausche is running for his third Democrat nomination in the May 2 primary. Knisley and another candidate are opposing him.

Mather Jewelry Worth Only $175,000

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25—(AP)—Police today said jewelry stolen Thursday from the William G. Mather mansion here is valued at $175,000 instead of the original estimate of $350,000.

They revised the figures after a re-examination of a list of the valuables taken by the seven-man gang. None of the jewelry was insured.

Mrs. Mather yesterday had reduced the estimate to $232,000. Police also disclosed that they have compiled a list of employees who worked for the wealthy couple during the past two years.

All of those who had access to the 30-room home will be checked.

The robbery was committed by a group of gloved and hooded gunmen who tied up Mrs. Mather and her 92-year-old husband's male nurse.

Minimum Wage Act Aided 48,000 Ohioans

CLEVELAND, Feb. 25—About 48,000 Ohio workers got a pay raise when the new 75 cent minimum wage under the Fair Labor Standards Act went into effect on Jan. 25, it was estimated today by William S. Singley, regional director of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, U. S. Department of Labor.

The law covers 1,600,000 Ohio workers in about 33,000 plants. However, of the 48,000 who get pay raises as a result of the increase in the minimum from 40 to 75 cents an hour, Mr. Singley estimates that approximately 36,000 were already getting at least 50 cents an hour.

In addition to raising the minimum wage from 40 to 75 cents an hour, the 81st Congress strengthened the child labor provisions of the Act by directly prohibiting the employment of children under 16 in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce and the employment of minors under 18 in hazardous occupations.

AMA Council Not Sure About Anti-Histamines

CHICAGO, Feb. 25—The Council of Pharmacy and Chemistry of the American Medical Association declared today that the "true effectiveness" of anti-histamine drugs as cold preventatives has not yet been proved to its satisfaction.

In a lengthy report published in the current issue of The Journal of the American Medical Association, the Council said that studies so far of the value of anti-histamines can be classified only as "the honest opinions of the investigators and not as fact."
